

Alaska Psychiatric Institute Recovery Center & The Alaska Native Tribal Health Consortium present

Bipolar Disorder in Children and Adolescents: Facts and Controversy

8:30-9:30 a.m., Tues. May 12th & 26th

Speaker: Dr. Karen Jackman

Jackman's talk is part of Frontline Behavioral Health, a videoconference series on the 2nd & 4th Tuesdays of each month for primary care providers including physicians, mid-level practitioners, behavioral health clinicians, CHA/Ps and BHAs and CHAs.

The series includes expert presentations, roundtable discussions, and interactive case reviews.

CMEs available.

- Call in toll free to 1-888-733-9423, or 375-9423 in Anchorage, then enter 3945#
- Beam in to video IP address 10.242.254.3, meeting room 3945

Karen Jackman, MD is double board certified in adult psychiatry and child & adolescent psychiatry. She moved to Alaska in 1993. Most of her career has been taking care of Native children in Western Bush Alaska, in the communities in the Norton Sound and Yukon-Kuskokwim Region. She has been medical director of Behavioral Health for both the Norton Sound Regional Hospital in Nome and the Yukon-Kuskokwim Delta Regional Hospital in Bethel. She has an extensive history of working in juvenile justice. She currently contracts with the State of Alaska to see the teenagers at both McLaughlin Youth Center and Bethel Youth Facility. She has been with Alaska Psychiatric Institute's TeleBehavioral Program since September 2007.

For more information, visit <http://hss.state.ak.us/dbh/API>

For VTC assistance, contact Tom Elmore at 729-3910 or telmore@afhcan.org at least five working days prior to the training.

